

About Vastu Shastra and Vastu Creations: Eliminating Environmental Stress for Greater Success in Life

Vastu Shastra is an environmental and architectural science written about some seven to ten thousand years ago in a body of knowledge called the Vedas – ancient wisdom texts from India. The science of Vastu is based on the affects of the electromagnetic grid, the North and south poles and the impact the rays of the sun, moon, and planets have on our physiology and consciousness. Vastu also takes into consideration the effect the five elements (earth, air, water, fire, and space) have on our health, well-being, and productivity. These elements make up everything on our planet. We are also made of these same five elements.

The tenants of Vastu speak of balance and harmony when the laws of nature are integrated into our lives. When these natural laws are ignored, we experience stress, disease, and lack. All are symptoms of being out of integrity with the forces alive in nature.

Vastu Creations, LLC uses tools and information focused on eliminating the environmental stress that people experience daily living and working in homes and offices that are not supported by the natural laws in nature. Analyses for home, office, and property are available on-line through the Vastu Creations' website (www.vastucreations.com) or onsite by appointment. With over 40 years of experience in the science of Vastu and thousands of satisfied customers worldwide, the company continues to design and develop powerful tools that eliminate the impact of geopathic, geomagnetic, and environmental stress that is plaguing homes and offices around the world.

Scientific studies point to the cause of many physical, mental, and emotional problems we experience as coming from the impact of man-made environments. Vastu Creations eliminates environmental stress and brings balance to homes and offices, enhancing and expanding our human potential.
