VASTU CREATIONS LAUNCHES FIRST U.S. OPERATION USING ANCIENT VEDIC ART TO OPTIMIZE OUR PHYSICAL ENVIRONMENT

Seattle, Washington April 8, 2002 - Vastu Creations, LLC, announced today the launch of the company. It offers client's services designed to benefit their personal lives and their business careers through the art and science of Vastu, the enhancement of the physical environment in which they work and play.

Thirty years ago Michael K. Mastro, designer, was in Europe designing spiritual centers to be built all over the world. There he discovered his life's calling, Vastu Shastra, an ancient form of architecture that enhances the quality of life. Vastu Shastra was written 7,000 to 10,000 years ago and is part of the extraordinary body of knowledge called the Vedas. Years later, as an award winning architect and developer in the United States, with corporate clients such as Boeing and Microsoft, his passion, skill and success in designing the environment that best supports an individual's life is completely unsurpassed.

With his wife Robin, who holds a Masters Degree from Antioch University in Whole Systems Design, he has established Vastu Creations, LLC. Like Michael, Robin is a proponent of this innovative form of environmental design. She concentrated her graduate work on taking this complex system and making it accessible to the Western mindset. Together they have set out to change the face of architecture and interior design as we know it. They have proved to clients, time and again, how even simple changes to home or office can greatly impact physical and mental health, productivity and success. My Linh Tran, owner of Lynn's Bistro in Kirkland, WA, says, "Within months (of working with Vastu Creations), my business has been called one of the best restaurants in the greater Seattle area."

The concept that WHERE we spend our time can affect our success and the quality of our lives is relatively new to the West. Vastu Creations offers a complete line of services including architectural, landscape and interior design, site evaluation, on-line assessments as well as a product catalogue. Robin and Michael offer their talent, expertise and experience to create environmental balance and harmony that optimizes success at work and at home. Camille Stranger, a filmmaker in Hollywood, CA comments "I now have a blueprint, a compass, to accomplish specific results that are reliable and impressive."
